

What is SOURCE?

SOURCE, or Service Options Using Resources in Community Environments, is a state program designed to provide elderly, disabled and low-income patients with a wide range of long-term health services, either in their home or community. Often, the program can help avoid nursing home care and unnecessary hospital stays.

SOURCE can help elderly and disabled Georgians on Medicaid and SSI stay healthy and stay home while receiving medical services at little or no expense to you.

Community Services

- Adult day care
- Personal care home
- Caregiver respite
- Coordination of outpatient therapy
